BIOGRAPHIE

It has been said »They're rocking the hell out of north-west Germany!« The Morbids are five country boys who formed eight years ago on the school yard.

Starting from square one they grew together to become skilled musicians. Their motto is to live rock 'n' roll. Passion and love of life connects them to their music. Songs stream into body and soul. An energetic stage show is what carries their fans along. The lyrics are about long nights, empty bottles and of course love and the blues.

For old times sake they don't need more than two guitars, bass, drums and a voice. This young, fresh and high energy rock 'n' roll is at home on stage. With their groovy and sniffy sound their music is straight to the point.

The Morbid Minds stage show is an intoxication of riffs, licks and long hair. Party, sweat and power is what the boys need and love. More than 120 gigs across the north make them a well known part of the local music scene.

With their recently produced EP »BABY!« the Morbid Minds are touring through the country inviting the audience to dance on a carpet of sound.
